Title: “Problem Solving – A Different Way of Thinking”

Synopsis: Some companies have good and positive approaches to solving problems that treat them as an opportunity to improve. But most companies do not and they are too constrained by time, money and possibly personnel to take a longer term approach. With rich experience of conducting independent technical investigations of failures and accidents, the speaker will introduce a problem-solving approach that has been followed in some failure investigations. The approach should be useful to companies and individuals.

Speaker: Ir Dr George Greene, Principal Consultant, Safety Accident and Failure Experts Ltd., has been in Hong Kong since 1973, lectured at HKU in Mechanical Engineering until 2011 and conducted many technical investigations to assist in the resolution of disputes. Investigations have been carried out for a wide range of clients and covered many practical fields but mainly failures and accidents.
