* Notice of Joint Seminar*

Title: Personal Progression and Enhancement through Continuing Professional Development

Synopsis:

IMarEST members have always been encouraged and expected to undertake Continuing Professional Development (CPD) to enhance themselves and their career. The Science Council have always expected its registrants to undertake mandatory recording of CPD. This has now been adopted by the Engineering Council and will be expected by the IMarEST for all of its registers.

IMarEST, on behalf of the Science Council, Engineering Council and its own registers, will undertake a random sample of registrants' CPD records and provide appropriate feedback. For Engineers this will be mandatory no later than January 2019.

IMarEST ECHO is the Institute's professional development platform, providing members with online and offline access to a growing collection of learning and development content and training materials. ECHO provides members with access to their own CPD record, which they can maintain and update.

This presentation will outline how CPD can be utilised for career and registration progression and how ECHO can assist in maintaining and recording a personal record.

Speaker Biography:

Professor John Chudley BSc PhD CMarEng CEng FIMarEST
